Christmas party carbon calculator

As an award-winning, sustainable venue, our mission is to support our clients to reduce carbon emissions, and work towards the global transition to net zero. Hold your Christmas party with us and we'll measure the average carbon event emissions for you.

Following your Christmas party our team will:

- Provide a summary of how the estimated carbon emissions have been calculated
- Provide some suggestions of how you can reduce emissions for your next event
- Help increase your awareness of the emissions associated with your events for future event comparisons
- Save you time gathering this information by doing the hard work for you, leaving you with a baseline figure to work with for future event comparisons

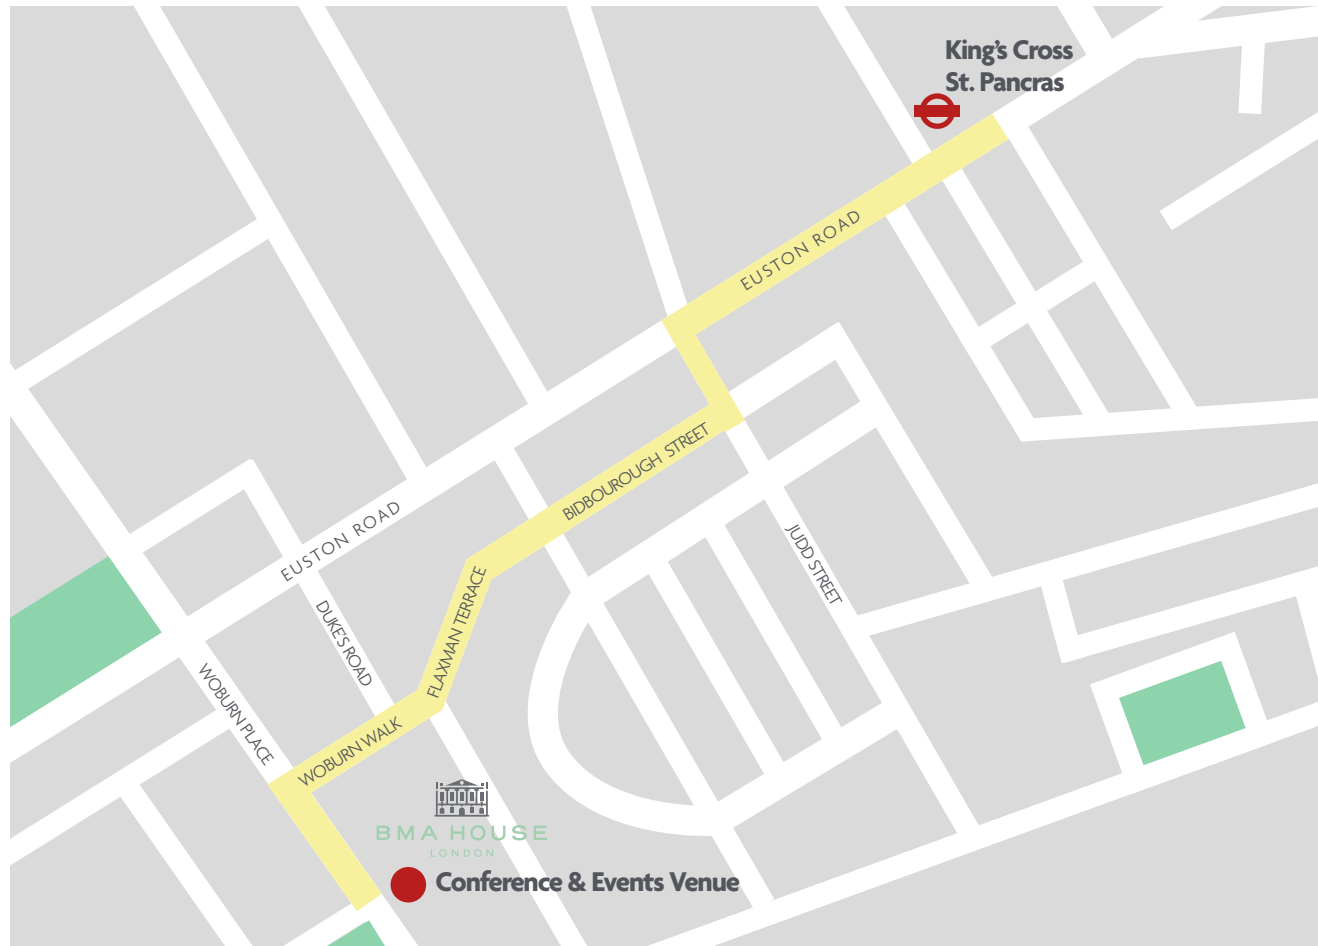

For more information on our complimentary carbon calculator, please contact your Event Planner.

 Please note results are an average only*
